AWA, Oct. 1.—The government today advanced another stage in its efforts to strike a balance between the duties and British manufacturers. It is decreed by order-in-council that the dumping duty would be raised on importations from Great Britain and thus eliminated the differential. Further, the duty on certain commodities is to be increased. The value of shipments from the United Kingdom would be increased in terms of the pound sterling at par. The order-in-council also provides that the value of shipments from the United Kingdom would be increased in terms of the Canadian currency by the same percentage as the value of the pound.

Police Suppress Red Activities In Ontario Centres

Canada Press
TORONTO, Oct. 1.—Attempts of Communists to hold demonstrations in various Ontario centres, Wednesday, were promptly suppressed by police with little or no violence in most cases.

In Toronto, police charged and broke up a meeting of young Communists on a downtown street corner. Three men were arrested. At Timmins a demonstration was staged without interference although speakers in the crowd which assembled broke the Communist speakers. One woman was arrested on an assault charge.

At Sudbury, police dispersed Communists who attempted to parade through the streets following a meeting in a park. One man was arrested for refusing to "move along."

Canadians supplied three-fourths of one per cent of the total imports of Japan and China in 1928, and now supplies about a half cent of the total.

MORE ABOUT ELECTION

Sir Herbert and his Liberal cabinet colleague, Sir Donald MacLean, visited Mr. St. John's, St. John's, Nfld., yesterday and today. It is presently stated that Sir Herbert's resignation from the government is likely to ensue.

LLOYD GEORGE BALKS
Mr. Lloyd George is it understood, has expressed himself very forcibly to Sir Herbert as the turn of events and there appears to be very little prospect of getting the veteran Liberal cabinet to agree to the idea of an early general election on a National reconstruction program which would include tariff.

On the other hand efforts are being made to arrange for Sir John Simon, Liberal, who broke with Lloyd George and who is willing to agree to emergency tariffs, to enter the National government with Sir Herbert—an arrangement which would widen the scope of Liberal representation to the government.

The King today granted an audience to the Marquis of Blandford, Lord Secretary of the National government, and it is understood they conversed at length over the political situation. Lord Blandford is regarded as one of the most likely to remain in his post in the event of an election or reconstruction of the cabinet.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 1

HELP THE CRIPPLED CHILD

The Shriners in Alberta have undertaken to raise funds with which to establish a crippled children's hospital. No cause could be more deserving than that. The need can be seen in the persons of children limping and leaning on crutches and towns, who might be made normal and given an equal chance in life through the services of such a hospital and special hospital equipment. Where parents cannot provide these, it is surely the duty of the public to lend a hand.

THREE OTHERS STEP OFF

Sweden and Norway promptly decided that they could not afford to stay on the gold standard, now that Britain has abandoned it, and Denmark immediately followed suit.

These are countries which export heavily to Britain. They are not, therefore, their chances of holding their places in that market will be better if they do not demand so many of the depreciated pounds in return for their products as their rivals demand.

PRODUCED-IN-ALBERTA

The annual produced-in-Alberta exhibition opens in the Riverside Pavilion on Monday. This event has been gaining momentum in public interest and reason to expect that both the exhibition and the attendance this year will equal or better the records of former years.

While "the price controls" at present more than usually does, this is also a time when the incidental results of his spending are more than usually deserving of the attention of the householder. The first objective in relation to unemployment is to maintain conditions as close as possible to normal as possible, and in proportion to that is done the amount of relief work and direct relief necessary will be minimized.

The revenue which Alberta draws from the export of wheat, coal and other standard products is more than usually dependent on conditions generally were more favorable. With a smaller amount of money with which to do business, it is more than ordinarily important to keep credit circulating in the province so far as possible.

In acquainting the public with the variety, quality and prices of Alberta products, the exhibition makes a direct and effective appeal that a preference be shown to the producers and producing industries of this province. Local conditions will be better according to the readiness with which the purchasing public respond to this appeal.

EQUAL TREATMENT FOR THE WEST

Hon. Robert Weyl announces that the Dominion Government has decided to market their feeder cattle in the eastern provinces. The Government is to pay half the freight on the cattle from the eastern farms on which they are finished, to the seaboard.

In proportion to that encourages farmers in Ontario and other eastern provinces to buy western cattle for fattening, this will benefit both the western stock grower and the eastern feeder. It is to be hoped that there may be a large development of business along that line.

But to establish a market for western farmers on the same basis that there is a corresponding measure of assistance given to the shipment of finished cattle from western feed lots to the sea ports in the northern parts of the western provinces there is an enormous crop of cheap feed and abundant green feed and roughage. These can only be marketed profitably on the hoof.

But the western rancher is to be given the widest possible market for his feeder cattle, the western farmer an equal chance to his feeder cattle to be beef, and the livestock industry given equal encouragement in both sections of the Dominion, there will have to be corresponding freight rates from western and eastern feed lots to the ocean ports. Assistance having been extended by the Government in one case, it should be extended in the same measure in the other case.

GENEVA AND MANCHURIA

The course of procedure appears to be that Japan is still withdrawing its troops at Geneva and advancing them in Manchuria.

That may be satisfactory at Geneva, but it is obviously not very satisfactory to China. Japan does it promise peace in the Orient. Wars, like fires, start from small beginnings. The occurrences in Manchuria have very much the appearance of war and are by no means small.

In rejecting China's appeal for intervention and accepting Japan's assurances that it has no territorial ambitions, the Council of the League may have done all that its covenant obligations require it to do. That it has done all that could have been done to maintain its own prestige as the great peace-maker of the world, is another and a different matter.

The Council has in effect taken an attitude of "benevolent neutrality" with a hope. Japan and China—both members of the League—will be able to settle their difficulties amicably. Meanwhile the situation is being settled or unsettled by "guerrilla warfare," in the language of a Japanese despatch from the scene of action.

As compared to the inaction of the League, the direct appeal to Japan and China on the part of President Hoover, looking a good deal like a "guerrilla war," to attempt to adjust matters before the blaze has become a conflagration. The United States, rather than the League, may well be well in these circumstances. Incidentally, the stalling at Geneva can hardly make the United States more anxious to join a League which seems to be unable to write persuasive cablegrams to the disputants.

Forty Years Ago

From the Files of the Edmonton Bulletin

A meeting of the directors of the Edmonton agricultural society was held Saturday afternoon in the school house. Present, M. McCauley, president; G. S. Long, W. Walker, John Lookey, D. B. Wilson, M. Edmond, J. C. Bennett, and W. W. H. Stephens. The judges for the exhibition on October 3rd were selected and the following committees were appointed: to audit all incoming accounts, for name, M. McCauley, John Lookey, John Cameron, D. B. Wilson and Campbell Young.

Wednesday's train carried Edmonton's contribution to the Winnipeg exhibition. It was altogether impossible to get through grain, as the farmers were so busy with their harvest. The root crop had not yet been dug, and it was very difficult to get suitable samples, and what were secured were sent rather to the market than to the exhibition.

But these facts are today obsolete. The agricultural control of war fields of industrial, financial and commercial life. We were once the victims of uncontrolled monopoly, and we ought to have been free by using and using. We obviously do not want to give monopoly a free rein.

Recommend Housing Scheme as Relief Measure

PRESS MATTER ON DOMINION, ALTA. GOV'TS

Council Would Secure $1-000,000 Loan if Committee's Plan Adopted

The unemployment committee will recommend to the council that the provincial and federal governments be asked to consider a housing scheme in the city as a relief measure, along the lines proposed to the council on Monday night by Messrs. A. Macpherson and W. Curtis, of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters. The same decision was reached before the committee on Wednesday.

The committee, however, did not hold out very much hope to the delegation that the government is likely to agree to the scheme.

The chairman, Ad. Colquhoun, said that in the first place if the city wished to carry out any plan of housing, it would have to obtain permission from the provincial legislature, and that would be a considerable task before anything could be done.

PLAN TO SECURE LOAN

The plan, as submitted, is for the council to secure a loan of a million dollars and to get the money in constructing workers' dwellings, which Mr. Macpherson said would be built at a cost of $2,000, served with utilities and with gas.

These cottages could be rented for $17 to $20 a month or sold outright at a rental basis.

The mayor said that an ideal situation for such houses would be the Gallagher or Fraser Place, for the reason that these areas are served with utilities, and people living there would not have to pay for water.

The mayor also said that he was in favor of a housing scheme and had taken the matter up with Premier Brownlee, but his scheme was to erect cheap cottages which could be used for housing indigent people who cannot afford to pay even $20 rent.

REQUEST CONSIDERED

The request of the carpenters' union in regard to employing more carpenters at the power house were denied. A report to the effect that 15 carpenters have been given work varying from three to 15 days. Two carpenters are working on an hourly basis of their skill and the fact that the work demanded special qualifications.

The delegation said that their request was that the council order work at the power house to be given out on the Friday system.

The mayor said that the report showed Mr. Cunningham is trying to follow this plan as much as possible.

AND VERY NICE TOO!

FRIENDS ASK THAT A KING BE RELEASED

Opinion of Expert is That
Not That of Cheque

Armed with a definite considered opinion from Dr. D. C. Revell, executive of questioned documents and member of the staff of the University of Alberta, which states definitely that the signature H. Tuttle on the back of the cheque which figures in the recent Al King case is not in the handwriting of King, but in the handwriting of another man who appeared before Dr. Revell and executed the cheque, J. F. Lyndale is taking immediate steps to have King released or given a new trial.

Charged with the forgery of the cheque in question, King was recently sentenced to five years penal servitude, and an appeal against his conviction was not upheld by the Court of Appeal, which ruled that the five-year term must stand.

CROWN'S CONTENTION

In giving their decision both the trial judge and the Court of Appeal judges based their findings largely on the fact that the expert evidence was to the effect that the name H. Tuttle, signed on the back of the cheque, which formed the basis of the conviction, was not in the handwriting of King. The crown contention in presenting the case was that no such expert evidence was brought by the crown.

Following the decision of the Appeal Court the crown moved forward to King's friends and stated that the evidence given by the accused man was right and that the crown's expert evidence was mistaken. Taken together, Dr. Revell's own signed twelve different signatures, every one of which showed unmistakably that King did not execute the cheque and that in reality another man, using the name of H. Tuttle, executed it.

Dr. Revell's expert testimony, which is being used as the basis for the reopening of the case, is as follows:

OBTAINED SPECIMEN

On Tuesday, September 29, 1931, I obtained specimens of handwriting by one John Doe of undisclosed identity, who, however, was not A. H. King whom I know by sight. These specimens were obtained on the basis of a letterhead addressed and executed in my name. These specimens by John Doe, of the writing of the name "H. Tuttle" and were obtained for the purpose of comparison with the name as rendered on a certain cheque dated November 5, 1930, and signed "H. Tuttle" which was in my possession and to produce a signed receipt in his name.

Comparison of the handwriting of the specimen of the name "H. Tuttle" in each copy of the affidavit, letter or shows such variations as occur in bona fide non-simulated signatures. I am satisfied that these specimens are not in the handwriting of the man known as John Doe neither do they resemble him.

Comparison between the John Doe specimens as standard with the signature of "H. Tuttle" on the back of the W.H.R. cheque shows such kinds of agreement and similarity as to lead me to believe that the man known as John Doe and not A. H. King, wrote the name "H. Tuttle" on the back of the W.H.R. cheque.

This is my considered opinion.

More Partridge Than Prairie Chicken Shot

Eight Hungarians to Four Chicken Bagged on Opening Morning

Believe it or not, there were more Hungarians, than prairie chickens, bagged on the opening morning of the season opened with a great big bang on Thursday morning.

This may seem incredible at first, but a careful check of it.

A birds of both species actually shot, shows that there were about eight partridges bagged to about every four chickens.

This may seem natural enough at first, since, because they are allowed to shoot 15 partridge to five chickens, but it didn't look like that proportion in former years.

Albertans were able to hit chickens with unfailing regularity, but when it came to the feathered partridge, it was another story—a story full of alack.

The local sports at last seem to have discovered some system which has found results for Hungarians, and most of them had that contended shot their arrows to their targets.

Chickens are most numerous to the north and west of the city, while the Hungarians seem to be everywhere.

Thursday and Saturday morning, returning hunters said, while partridge were out in the stable.

The chicken season will be open two weeks, while the Hungarian partridge season is open for five weeks.

"It is money we ought to be spending at home," Beaverbrook declared. "It is money we ought to be spending at home." Beaverbrook was buying nearly $1,500,000 worth of munitions and $2,500,000 worth of foodstuffs overseas, he said.

"If we can stop these foreign purchases, we can save the money we are spending, and we can use it for the benefit of the British people," he said.

Using importation of tariffs to reduce foreign trade, Lord Beaverbrook remarked the principle of revenue from trade has been established by the British government.

Lord Beaverbrook's arrival in London has been met with enthusiasm by the British public. He is expected to stay in London for some time.

JEEVES TO GO UP FOR TRIAL, THEFT CHARGE

Pursuing the report of the theft at the county court recently, Detective T. W. Symons, of the A.P.P., arrested Jeeves in front of the King Edward Hotel, 101 street. He was then entering his car with a suit case, which he was carrying out of the car.

A search warrant was issued in Jeeves' case, and Jeeves was taken to the police station. He was then taken to the police station.

Goods produced in court were identified by Detective Symons and Detective T. W. Symons, of the A.P.P., as having been stolen from the store, which he had been managing at Delburne, testified that the store had been broken into during the late hours of September 20 or early morning of September 21.
